Know Your SLO!
School Liaison Officers work directly with Families to provide accurate PreK-12 educational information. The biggest challenge families face related to their child's education is misinformation. During a PCS, to ensure the smoothest transition, it is best to contact your School Liaison Officer, before, during, and after the move, to receive the most accurate and unbiased school related information.

School Liaison Officers also assist families with homeschooling, installation and school communication, partnerships in education, and post-secondary opportunities.

Contact your School Liaison Officer today! Fort Bragg School Liaison Officer can be reached at fortbragg_schoolliaison@army.mil, 910-432-1023/910-396-3338, or on the 6th Floor of the Soldier Support Center.

Impact Aid and the Federal Survey
Parents with students in public and charter schools will begin to receive the annual Impact Aid Federally Connected Survey. Completing the Federally Connected Survey will assist in determining the district's allotment of Federal Impact Aid. It is critical the forms are signed, dated, and returned in the timeframe requested by the school district.

Impact Aid is a Federal Government's reimbursement to school districts for the presence of nontaxable federal property (i.e., military installations, Indian Lands, Federal low rent housing, national laboratories, and grasslands) and federal connected students. Failure to sign and return the form results in the school districts not receiving their correct allotments and consequently impacts the quality of education.

The survey does not violate any OPSEC. In addition, Fort Bragg's Garrison Commander supports the completion of the Impact Aid Federally Connected Survey. You can view the Garrison Commander letter to Military Families (insert link or attach letter).

FAFSA and North Carolina College Application Week
The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is the form you need to fill out to get any financial aid to help pay for college; the 2027-2028 FAFSA form is now available! It's a good idea to submit the application as soon as possible because financial aid is distributed on a first-come, first-served basis. Many early decision college applications, merit scholarships, and other early scholarship deadlines require a FAFSA to submit. You can complete the FAFSA at https://studentaid.gov.

The North Carolina College Application Week is October 19–25, 2026, as part of NC Countdown to College. During College Application Week, many participating North Carolina colleges and universities waive their application fees, giving students a great opportunity to submit applications while saving on some of the costs associated with applying to college. Visit CFNC.org to explore colleges, complete applications, and access additional college-planning resources. Families should also check NC College

Connect portal in CFNC.org to see whether their senior has received direct admission opportunities to participating NC colleges and universities.

Fayetteville Technical Community College Military Orientation
Whether you are Active Duty, a Veteran, Military Spouse, or Military Dependent, the FTCC military and veterans' team at Fort Bragg have created a Military Orientation designed to help you understand your education benefits and connect you with the resources you need to be successful.

Event information: October 15, 2026, 12PM, at the Fort Bragg Training and Education Center, 4520 Knox St. Building 1-3571, Wing F. For more information, contact 910-678-1050.

Homeschool Workshop
Are you a homeschooling military family preparing for an upcoming Permanent Change of Station (PCS)? Transitioning your home classroom across state lines or overseas can feel overwhelming, but you do not have to navigate it alone.

Join the Fort Bragg School Support Office on Thursday, November 5, 2026, at 1:30PM at the Throckmorton Library for our specialized Homeschool Workshop: PCSing & Planning Your Next Move.

This interactive session features an expert guest panel of experienced military homeschooling parents. They will share proven tips, trades, and invaluable resources to help you seamlessly transition your curriculum, meet new state compliance laws, and quickly plug into homeschooling networks at your next duty station.

Whether you have orders in hand or are anticipating a move in the near future, come ready to gather the tools and insider tricks you need for a stress-free transition. No registration is required, and all homeschooling families are welcome to attend!