Important Information for Step Parents

- A step parent is not a biological parent.
- A step parent is related to the child only by marriage to a biological or adoptive parent.
- There are cases where step parents may attempt to become involved in the care of a minor child. Under the HIPAA Privacy Rule and state law, a stepparent has no legal right to serve as the personal representative of a minor, unless they have an appropriate legal document granting them authorization.
- People other than the biological or adoptive parents need a judicial order, guardianship power of attorney, or other legal document that grants them authority to consent to medical treatment or obtain the child's protected health information.

Meridian EpiPen Recall

- The U.S. Food and Drug Administration is alerting consumers to Meridian Medical Technologies' voluntary recall of 13 lots of EpiPen and EpiPen Jr Auto-Injector products.
- The recalled product was manufactured by Meridian Medical Technologies, a Pfizer company, and distributed by Mylan Specialty between December 2015 and July 2016.
- This recall is due to the potential that these devices may contain a defective part that could result in the devices' failure to activate. Products that potentially contain a defective part are being recalled because of the potential for life-threatening risk if a severe allergic reaction goes untreated.
- Please examine your packages, and if you have a product from an affected lot, contact Stericycle at 877-650-3494 to obtain a voucher code for a free replacement product. Present the voucher code at any Womack Army Medical Center Pharmacy and you will receive a replacement.

If you have any additional questions regarding this recall, please contact Mylan Customer Relations at 800-796-9526 or customer.service@mylan.com.
